

ATTENTION PLEASE !!!!!

 THE IDEAS WRITTEN HERE ARE NOT THE AUTHOR IDEAS BUT THE IDEAS OF THE GROUP CONTRIBUTORS. ALL RIGHT RESERVED BY AUTHOR:

QN-ANS

1. What is development theory & why is the grasp of development theories important for managing development.

Development theory;

Refers to the entail set of ideas, principle, concept or assumption that used to understood or interpret development.

- > It promote desire for change through improvement of productive force
- > It emphasize the role of education
- > Theories awake us on understanding the complexity of imperialism and its role in shaping post colonial state example dependency theory
- > Theories remind citizen to hold government accountable as the key and catalyst for development
- > Theories rise the curiosity for competitive in economic issue
- > Theories persuade people to invest especially on science and technology as catalyst for development

2. Why do the dependency theories stress the importance of analyzing the international political and economic sytem in order to understand the state of development of the global south

Dependency;

Dependency is a conditioning situation in which the economies of one group of countries are conditioned by development and expansion of others. The process of dependency has been described by different scholars such as Frank (1969),Palma (1978), Evans (1979), Szentes (1970), Gilbert and Haralambis (1973)

- > In order to escape intensive exploitation from developed countries
- >* To reduce economic dependency
- > To promote our own democracy by removing northern interference on our political matter
- >*To promote regional cooperation and widen market
- > To eliminate science and technological dependency
- > To avoid debt burden